

Fadic Year Number Meanings

All fadic years are crucial turning points in the road of our lives, representing a key change in our life's course. But the primary (or master) number that year reduces-may give us some indication as to what the nature of that particular change will be. The list below is general guide to how those crucial life-changing years may manifest themselves.

1-Striking out on my own. This can be a year where you become the boss, go into business for yourself, strike out on your own, start a personal project of importance only to you, or decide you want to separate yourself from those in your current environment. This can mean moving to a new area where you don't know anybody, changing job locations, or some similar change. There is a go-it-alone energy to this number. You may do something which makes you stand out in some way. There's a certain daring to number 1, because it projects itself. At a less-welcome extreme, this number might even indicate the death of someone or something important to you, some development which forces you to stand alone, find inner strength and become more self-reliant.

2-A relationship has to change. And you know it. You're either entering into an important new relationship, whether it's a marriage, friendship, membership, job, career, contract, cooperative agreement--or leaving one. Perhaps, you're changing more than one relationship this year. Whatever the changing relationship is, whether it's beginning or ending, it will mark a crucial turning point in your life. (Author's note: in my past '2' fadic years, I realized that a certain relationship needed to end).

3-Creativity, sociability, joy in living. This can be a year where some form of art, or a craft which you take up can grow into something of vital importance in your life, perhaps your primary occupation. You may make some important new friends this year, who have a massive impact on the years which follow. You could come to a change in thinking where you resolve to be happy no matter what, and your more positive way of thinking creates a ripple effect in your life of further positive things happening.

4-Foundation and security are priorities. You may try to establish a secure base of operations for further advancement. You may change your philosophy of life, as in religious or world-view ideas, or adopt some general guidelines for living. You may focus on building and maintaining your security in some way, and taking steps to strengthen it. This can be an important 'laying-the-groundwork' sort of year, whether it's an actual structure or a whole school of philosophy you're building. A '4' year can be a year where nothing important seems to be happening, but looking back, you realize something subtle but very important to the rest of your life happened that year. Also the number of home, this may indicate an important development on the home front.

5-Taking a risk. This can be a year where you are either seeking more freedom, or doing something you haven't done before, possibly something daring. You take a self-initiated risk. It could fail, and you know it, but nothing ventured, nothing gained. Whatever you do this year, it will lead to great new possibilities in your life, and all because you were brave-enough to stick your neck out and try. This number can also indicate travel is in the picture.

6-Some home or family-related event. Someone could be born-into the family, marry into the family, or be adopted into the family, who will become very important to you. Or they could leave it, by dying, divorcing, or moving out on their own. There could be a wedding with life-changing implications. There could be a change of residence, or the loss of it by some natural event, which would lead to subsequent changes in your life.

7-An education. This could be a year where you either enter or prepare to enter into a course of study that will change your life. You may change your status in life; become a spouse, a parent, a grandparent, a boss, the grand-poobah of your benevolent association, and suddenly have to educate yourself in the ways of your new role in order to manage your life effectively going forward. Important spiritual, philosophical or religious considerations could feature in this year.

8-Success; you move up in the world in some way. You could experience some life-changing success, a big promotion, a lottery or sweepstakes win, or a move to a better neighborhood than the one you're living in now. Maybe some combination of the above! Whatever it is, it will change your life for the better in a material way, the sort of advancement for which others might envy you. Be prepared for significant material gain when this is your fadic-year number.

9-Humanitarianism, Endings. This could be a year when you make a crucial decision which involves humanitarian pursuits. You could go to work for a non-profit international organization which has you interacting with the world in a new way. You might even move abroad for this. Nine as a fadic year can indicate one or likely more important endings in your life. At its worst, this could be a year where you lose everything and have to start all over from scratch. Like the '1' fadic year, this could be the year someone or something very important in your life dies, and you're left to adjust, accept, pick up the pieces and move on with your life, but in a different way.

11-Spirituality, Illumination. This number usually subsumes itself into a '2' fadic year, but its possible presence as the compound number in a '2' fadic year is important, because it's a master number, which can color the way the 2 fadic year manifests itself. Whatever the relationship change heralded by a '2' fadic year, if the number 11 is present behind it, realize this relationship change is occurring because Spirit is either calling or driving you in another direction, usually in the direction of growth. If this is specifically an '11' fadic year for you, and not a '2', it can indicate a year in which you have an important spiritual or paranormal experience, or arrive at a life-changing spiritual insight. You may change religions, enter a religious order or organization, enter a seminary or pursue a divinity degree with the intention of becoming an ordained clergyperson. An 11 fadic year can indicate a crucial turning point in your spiritual journey, a key insight which has you thinking and living differently from that point on.

22-The Master Builder. This number usually subsumes itself into a '4' fadic year, but its possible presence as the compound number in a '4' fadic year is important, because it's a master number which can color the way the '4' fadic year manifests itself. The number four is all about order, structure, foundation, security, guidelines, institutions and the like. The master number 22 may indicate a fadic year in which you start laying the groundwork for a very important project or structure of vastly-more importance than, at first glance, it may appear. This could be a project which affects many. You may be able to look back on this year and see it as one of the most important turning-points in your life, although at the time nothing dramatic seemed to be happening.
