TABLE OF THE SERPENT

1. A former enemy is going to help you to overcome the evil which now besets you. Do not shun this new friendship, or it will be to your sorrow and detriment. You must trust this person in all circumstances.
2. You will overcome all opposition within a week.
3. You must try to be more forgiving, or happiness will avoid you. Do not hold the grudge any longer, or you will be sorry.
4. You are destined to hate someone passionately. Try to keep these feelings under control, or they may get out-of-hand and cause even more serious problems.
5. Your intentions are excellent, but because someone envies you, an enemy is now being made. There is nothing you can presently do about it.
6. Your one opportunity to defeat an individual who is out to physically hurt you is going to present itself soon. Watch closely for this opportunity. It may be the only chance you will get.
7. A big quarrel is close at hand. Try to mollify this person beforehand, or otherwise make amends, if possible.
8. Your enemy is being defeated through his own maliciousness. Sit back and wait. The problem will solve itself. Never interrupt your enemy while he is making a mistake should be your motto now.
9. Do not give in now, or you will regret it. Hold fast, for victory is just around the corner.
10. You will receive a poison-pen letter in one week. Ignore it, and nothing will develop. React strongly, and more trouble will arise. This person is attempting to get a rise out of you—don't give it to them.
11. Someone close to you is leading you into dishonest acts. Is this really the road you want to travel down?
12. Follow the hunch you will receive within the next twelve hours. It will lead you out of the predicament you're in.
13. Stop at the next reader/psychic/diviner's place of business. This person will tell you how to avoid conflicts with a certain friend.
14. You will hear a voice just before going to sleep tonight. Listen carefully to what this voice has to say. The answer is waiting for you.
15. Do not let those dear to you influence your judgement in this matter. Someone is trying at the present time. Do what you know must be done.
16. The friend who comes to you to offer advice is not being completely frank with you. Be on your guard.
17. Seek professional help with your problem, otherwise the problem cannot be satisfactorily resolved.
18. A decision will have to be made immediately, but do not let the ideas of others influence you. The needed decision should come from your own mind.
19. The troublemaker in the family is an in-law. Think about which one it might be, and seek to expose this person.
20. Be on guard against jealousy. Someone hates you because of this, and this person cannot rest until you are punished according to what they think are your just-desserts.

21. There is no chance of escaping. What you have done has been found-out by the authorities. Things look quite serious now.
22. A young girl is going to bring problems into your life. You know how to handle this delicate situation, for this isn't the first time.
23. Gossip will be the downfall of your family. A break-up is now in the process of taking place. A good friend is (or will be) the source of the problem.
24. A wedding is the only way to solve the problem. It will be for the good of all parties involved.
25. One of the younger family members is going to bring great dishonor upon the family. It cannot be avoided.
26. A distant relative will cause many problems in your family life. Through patience alone will they be overcome.
27. Reckless spending will cause serious money problems. Check your bank account(s) and safe deposit box, if you have one. You are being taken advantage of; at the very least, someone is contemplating it, if they haven't done it already.
28. A friend will want to entrust you with some very valuable property for 'safe-keeping' soon. Beware of this, and try to beg-off from the responsibility if possible, for it will be stolen, and you will end up in jail, if you agree to hold it for this person. Somebody may be trying to set you up for a fall here.
29. You had better start building-up your savings, because a serious and costly illness is getting ready to strike either you or a member of your immediate family.
30. Bad luck in regard to finances will come within two weeks.
31. Disregard all advice offered to you on investing your savings. Although a friend is well-meaning, he or she is not informed-enough to offer valuable assistance. Consult a financial expert if you need investment advice.
32. Your wife, husband, or domestic partner will disgrace you publicly very soon, and in front of some long-time friends.
33. A stranger is going to offer you jewelry at a bargain price. Refuse to take this person up on the offer, because it's stolen goods they're selling, and the law will surely step in soon to relieve you of such a purchase.
34. You are going to suffer a great loss, due to carelessness. This can be avoided only through concentration and great care in your business dealings.
35. Do not let yourself fall in love so readily. The next potential romantic partner you meet will be out to take everything he or she can get from you.
36. Marry the person in question now, for it will be your last chance. They will move on to someone else soon if you do not.
37. An evil phone call or other form of communication will plague you soon. Do not worry, for this person doesn't really know you. He or she is not dangerous, and certainly not as dangerous as they may sound.
38. Blackmail will be attempted toward you soon, but ignore it and you will be left alone eventually. The person will threaten you, but pay them no attention. They will eventually get the message and go away.
39. A major scandal will involve you. How you react will determine if you will be hurt badly or only mildly by the after-effects of the scandal.

40. You will travel soon and while traveling, will meet a stranger who should be avoided, for this person spells future trouble if you choose to continue the association.
41. You will soon be sucked into trouble, for which you are not at all responsible. Although you are innocent of any wrongdoing in this situation, it will nonetheless be embarrassing for you.
42. You will soon make a change of your employment, because of problems on your present job. The problems will persist, however.
43. You have a dear friend of many years' standing whom you can no longer trust. He or she has not been truthful with you, and does have reasons to hurt you when the right opportunity presents itself. For your own sake, identify who this person is, break off the friendship.
44. You will soon be involved in a fight, which will ultimately bring you a multitude of misfortunes, and result in a legal hassle for you.
45. Beware of driving on the next three Saturdays, for an accident involving you is bound to take place if you do decide to drive on any of those three days.
46. You will soon lose a large sum of money from card playing, and if not through this form of gambling, then by some other means.
47. You are presently in much difficulty, and you will be able to overcome only a small part of it alone. Consult a trusted friend for helpful advice on how to deal with or overcome the rest of the difficulty.
48. Take extra care when you are out walking, for a fall in which you will injure yourself is prognosticated.
49. Unemployment is due to come into your life very soon, and finding a new job will be very difficult because of your attitude.
50. Someone will attempt to break into your home soon, and will seek to steal any cash you have hidden there. Remove it to another location altogether, and quickly, or else.
51. Do not quit your present job as you intend to, simply because of the individual at your place of work whom you do not like. This person will be leaving soon anyway, and the problem will solve itself.
52. Forget that fetching person at the local store whom you have your eye on. This person is deceitful, and will only play you for what they can get from you, should you successfully persuade them enter into a relationship with you.
53. Be more careful when you are outside in the near-future, and stay inside during thunderstorms. Otherwise, lightning is going to strike close by to where you are standing, and it may even hit you.
54. Your erstwhile-lover will soon return to you and have a logical story cooked-up. Disregard their story, and do not accept this person back into your life or your heart, or you will regret it.
55. A train is going to cause you great grief. This cannot be avoided, so seek to reconcile yourself to this future event as best you can.
56. You will marry early in life, and then lose your spouse far sooner than you would wish to. But do not despair for long, for it will ultimately turn out for the best.
57. You are destined to take a long trip, but do not fly this month. Take a bus, a train, a boat, or else drive yourself to your destination—but do not fly!

58. The money you loaned to a friend will only be returned when you sue. Go ahead and sue, for this person is not really a friend at all, and never was.
59. A woman is causing problems in your life, and she can only be stopped through a public showdown. Go ahead and force this showdown, no matter how much she may try to resist and deflect it; for you will not obtain peace from her any other way.
60. Beware of smiling friends. One in particular is out to do you as much financial harm as possible. He or she will not succeed, just so long as you stay alert and resist any of their attempted incursions into your finances.
61. Do not pull any punches in future dealings with your business associates, or someone will decide to take advantage of your easygoing nature. Be polite but firm, or you will stand to lose a great deal of money and prestige.
62. It would be very unwise to consider marrying the person you now have your heart set on, or living together with them, or even just 'going steady' with them. This person is a phony and has a police record. Ignore their sob-story, for it is a completely made-up work of fiction designed to gain your sympathy. You will regret it if you go through with any plans to form a lasting commitment to this person.
63. Accept no new responsibilities and enter into no financial dealings for the next three days. If you do so, severe money losses will be the ultimate result of your greed. Set aside the prospect of new responsibilities and financial dealings for now, and deal with them at a later date.
