

TABLET OF THE CROSS & THE CIRCLE

For questions concerning the home and family.

To be consulting no more than once every 27 days.

RULES:

The inquirer sits with their eyes closed and the pointer poised above the chart, while another participant turns the diagram around twice under the pointer. The inquirer, eyes still closed, then points to whatever area of the diagram they feel impelled to. If the pointer fails to land on any numbered section of the circle, they may try again two more times, repeating the whole process.

If all three attempts fail, then that means the time is not yet ripe for an answer, and they must wait two days before attempted to consult the tablet again. If this second attempt fails to obtain an answer for them, the inquirer must wait 27 days before attempting to consult this tablet again.
