

TABLET OF THE SECRETS OF THE STARS

For questions concerning matters of fame and success, & the inquirer's chances for both.

To be consulted no more than once every five months.

RULES:

The inquirer, with their eyes closed, should hold their pointer, tip-down, over the tablet while another person moves the chart back and forth three times in front of them, as if adjusting it to make sure the chart was positioned exactly right in front of the inquirer. With eyes still closed, the inquirer should rotate the pointer three times in the air before bringing it down on the chart in front of them.

If they miss, the inquirer is permitted two more tries. If, in three attempts, the inquirer fails to select an answer, then they must wait two days before attempting to consult the Secrets of the Stars tablet again. If the second attempt fails, they must wait five months before attempting to consult the chart again. To violate the five-month waiting period, it is believed, will cause the inquirer's hopes to never be realized.
