

Prophetic Coin of the dead

Instructions: Print out this sheet on good cardstock. Cut out the squares below, and lay them face down on the table. Still face down, scramble them around, so you don't know which number is which, and lay them out very closely, in three rows of three cards each, like you see them below. Take a coin, decide which side of the coin is heads and which is tails, then from a height of 8 in/20 cm, drop the coin over the center card. It will either stay on the center card, or bounce to one of the other face-down squares. Note whether the coin landed heads-up or tails-up and on what card. Pick up the card on which the coin landed, and note the number. Go to the Prophetic Coin Table of Messages, find the number, and read the relevant forecast for either heads or tails. If the coin lands half on one square, half on another, you may try again, but consider the possibility that the deceased person may have more than one answer for you...

Prophetic Coin of the dead -obverse side

Instructions: Print out this sheet on good cardstock on the reverse side of the first page. When the ink is dry and the cards cut out, lay these cards out with this side face-up on the table. Scramble them around, so you don't know which number is which, and lay them out very closely, in three rows of three cards each, as you see them below, leaving just enough room between the card for no more than a coin's-width. Take a coin, decide which side of the coin is heads and which is tails, then from a height of about 8 in/20 cm, drop the coin over the center card. It will either stay on the center card, or bounce to one of the other face-down squares. Note where the coin landed, and whether it was heads-up or tails-up. Then pick up the card on which the coin landed, and note the number. Go to the Prophetic Coin of the Dead Table of Messages, find the number, and read the relevant answer for either heads or tails. If the coin lands half on one square, half on another, you may try dropping it again, but consider the possibility the deceased person has more than one message for you...

Prophetic Coin of the Dead Table of Advice

Card 1

Heads: Take the initiative a little more often. Be the first to charge into the breach. Fortune favors the bold.

Tails: Don't be afraid to be you, even if that means following a different path from friends or family, or doing something that isn't currently popular. You'll be unhappy otherwise, always wondering, 'what if...'.

Card 2

Heads: Don't say no to a relationship or partnership, just because others advise against it. You could be passing up a chance for much happiness or profit. Check with your intuition—what is it telling you about this person?

Tails: A cooperative attitude can work wonders. Be open to receiving, not just initiating. You may tend to assume you must be pro-active & do everything yourself, & this isn't always the most-effective approach. Don't hesitate to ask an expert, if needed.

Card 3

Heads: Give your creative, talented side some more attention and space to come out to play. You may need to get out some more and interact with others.

Tails: Learn to identify the sociopaths, psychopaths and other maladapted people in life, because they're out there. Learning verbal self-defense techniques is a good idea, too.

Card 4

Heads: You need to get organized, and/or establish a set of ground-rules going forward. Realize that only hard work or persistence will solve some problems you may be facing.

Tails: Be a little more flexible. Sometimes you approach matters with too many shoulds, oughts, or restrictions in place, and these can get in the way of a solution. Learn another way.

Card 5

Heads: Take risks! Travel more! Introduce more variety into your life! The lack of change in your life is becoming stultifying.

Tails: You may not be able to stop the over-activity or sense of rootlessness, but try to find a sense of inner stability.

Card 6

Heads: Spend more time at home or with family, or both. They may not be seeing as much of you as they'd like. You may find you like these people.

Tails: You've been carefree & footloose, but show more a more responsible attitude. This will surprise some, and please the rest.

Card 7

Heads: Read more. Study more. Watch educational videos. Learn how to think critically. Your intellect needs nourishment.

Tails: Give your spiritual life more attention. The abstract, weighing, measuring, judging part of the brain is not the be-all and end-all of knowledge. Let mystery happen; your life will be richer for it.

Card 8

Heads: Ambition is not in and of itself a bad thing. If you want more for yourself, you are entitled to try for it. Make a plan of action and follow it.

Tails: You're in danger of tunnel-vision. Step back and take a bird's-eye view of the situation. Ask for help with this, if you need to.

Card 9

Heads: Volunteering, or enlisting in some noble cause of benefit to many, could enrich your life more than you know. Think of the greater good.

Tails: If you're feeling dismayed at having to say good-bye to someone or something, remember a good-bye is necessary before you can meet again. And if it's meant to be, you will meet again.

Prophetic Coin of the Dead Table of Messages

Card 1

If Heads: Whatever action you've thought about taking, even if it feels risky, you have our whole-hearted support. If you want it whole-heartedly, then go for it. And if you fail, you haven't lost, for you will learn from the experience. No risk, no reward—it is that simple.

If Tails: If you are ever feeling lonely, remember you're never completely alone. We're with you more than you know, and we are only one thought, one question away. We do send you gifts, answers, and signs. The challenge for you is to see these for what they are.

Card 2

If Heads: Someone in your life needs your assistance or support, right now, someone we both care about. They may not appreciate it, but you're racking-up good points with us! If you're considering entering into some sort of partnership, then take this answer as a 'yes, we approve.'

If Tails: You chose poorly in a relationship of some kind, someone who turned out not to deserve it, or used your efforts for ill-intent. We're still behind you & letting you know you'll recover from this, though it's painful now. If contemplating a relationship, it's 'no' from us.

Card 3

If Heads: We're so proud of your cleverness & creativity. You have a talent for bringing happiness & fun to others. There may even be people who are even jealous of you, because you have qualities they don't possess. Most of these people won't harm you though. Just be aware.

If Tails: Warning: there may be some maladjusted person in your environment. Someone not mentally well, & may have their eye on you or someone around you. The problem is, they may not appear-so. Play your cards close to your chest for the time being.

Card 4

If Heads: We've seen how hard you work & your efforts; they haven't gone unnoticed! Remember to give yourself a break every now & then, or you'll wear yourself out. On the other hand, if you're the lazy type & you know it, we're saying get back to work, you.

If Tails: We want to suggest, as diplomatically as we can, that you're being just a bit too rigid, too cautious, & too color-inside-the-lines in your approach to life. Be more flexible & open. Dare to think outside the box. Hear others' input.

Card 5

Heads: A bit of excitement, an unexpected trip, or some new technological device may be in the near future for you. At least it'll be a break from routine.

Tails: If you've been partying hard, frittering away your time on nothing, traveling here and there, or distracting yourself with the latest shiny thing, we have a message: stop it and focus. We recognize avoidance-behavior when we see it.

Card 6

Heads: Some important family matter has or soon will come up. You'll need to be a little more available for to the family than perhaps you normally are, and may need to shoulder more responsibility.

Tails: You may be heading into a situation where you'll have to stand apart from family or a family stand-in, physically or emotionally, temporarily or permanently. Remember you're not alone, for we're with you always.

Card 7

Heads: Some research may be what is needed to solve a dilemma, problem, or mystery which has presented itself, or may soon. Don't hesitate to consult any occult methods you may know-of or have access-to; it may need both approaches.

Tails: You're too much in your own head, thoughts awhirl and no answers are coming, no matter how hard you think. Meditate and clear your mind of thoughts. You need the break and an answer may come in the silence. You may even hear us.

Card 8

Heads: You may have to show audacity, confidence and assertiveness in a certain situation, in order to arrive at the outcome you desire. This may be a situation where any uncertainty or hesitation on your part can cause you to be passed-by. It's 'fake it until you make it' time.

Tails: Ambition for the wrong thing, something which wasn't meant for you, may be the issue here. If so, you are likely headed for failure. Using a forceful manner to get your way doesn't always work, and this is one of those times.

Card 9

Heads: The best response may be to be selfless, humanitarian and giving. You may have to be the bigger person about something. If you're saying, 'but what's in it for me' we understand, but being the bigger person now can earn you points which will pay off for you further down the road, and when you reach that point, you'll be glad you did.

Tails: You may need to say goodbye to someone or something in your life. This can be anything from letting-go of a person, to doing a purge of your room, to letting-go of an outdated idea. Letting-go can be painful, but it will clear the way for something new & when that something new arrives, you'll be glad you did. Nothing which is truly yours can ever be lost.

Prophetic Coin of the Dead Table of What We Like About You

Card 1

Heads: You lead. You initiate. You make the first move. Others follow you because of your confidence in yourself. There's a fearlessness and boldness about you that is admirable.

Tails: You pursue your own unique path in life, even if no one follows it. You hold to your own opinions, even if most other people don't agree. Some may see you as eccentric, others as a trailblazer, but you are always true to you.

Card 2

Heads: You are cooperative and a good team player. You don't have this ego-need to stand out in some way. You keep the higher-purpose in mind, whatever it is, and you devote your energies to its success. You are open to new input and adjust accordingly.

Tails: You are a good partner in relationships. Whether it's a spouse, a business partner, a friend, or a partner on a project at school or work, you contribute to the relationship. There's a good, supportive give-and-take with you.

Card 3

Heads: You are very good at self-expression, whether it's art, music, dance, or the written or spoken word, and have a real talent for it.

Tails: You are very good at socializing and have a talent for communicating with people. You are sometimes the life of the party. You also have a good sense for identifying people who are Trouble.

Card 4

Heads: You're a hard worker, a good organizer, and a fair-minded person. Not flashy traits, but strong and solid-gold ones.

Tails: You generate a feeling of stability others pick-up on and sometimes feel comforted by. You play by the rules and you support the institutions of society, even some established long-ago, because you see their value.

Card 5

Heads: You have an adventurous spirit. You aren't afraid to put yourself in new situations and meet new people, in fact you thrive on it. New technology doesn't intimidate you, you adapt yourself to it. You roll with the punches in life.

Tails: You seldom get into ruts in life. You don't get stuck. When it's time for a change, you recognize the need and you change. You realize on some level that change is what keeps life feeling fresh and filled with possibility. Some people fight change, and that's not been your problem

Card 6

Heads: Home and family are important to you and you place a high priority on them, even if it's not always apparent. We love them too, so we appreciate the value you place on them.

Tails: You show responsibility—to family, to community, to those you feel an obligation toward. This can feel burdensome or restricting at times, but it's a quality not everyone has, and your efforts aren't going unnoticed. We're proud of you.

Card 7

Heads: You are so smart! Some of us never achieved the level of education or intelligence you have. We admire it in you, and are proud to claim an association with you.

Tails: Your spirituality, religiosity, or piety is what catches our eye about you. It endows you with a light and a magnetism that draws the eye of us and many others who are blessed to come into your orbit.

Card 8

Heads: You're a go-getter, sometimes a ruthless one. You knew from early on in life you didn't want to be any sort of 'average.' You have ambitions and you go after them. You dare to be great.

Tails: You don't expect to be handed anything on a silver platter in life. You know that whatever you want to achieve in life, you have to work for, and you determinedly set yourself to the task. You know such achievements mean more when you work for them, anyway.

Card 9

Heads: Ah, your selfless and generous spirit. You put humanity first and know that you gain when all gain. If you didn't devote at least some of your life energies to some greater cause, you'd be feeling stifled and unfulfilled. And we bless you for it.

Tails: You have an inner strength many people don't see, but we do. Because of the requirements of your particular life path, you may have had to say more than your fair-share of goodbyes in life, or have had to let go of things you'd rather hold onto, or had to shoulder burdens which would have crushed a lesser person. In these challenging moments in life, know that we're there with you.

Prophetic Coin of the Dead ~ Table of Predictions

Card 1

Heads: If you aren't already, it is your destiny to be a boss, a leader in some way, or in a position of authority. If this sounds a little scary, rest assured that when it comes, you'll be ready for it.

Tails: It is your destiny to follow your own unique path in life, and this can lead to occasional feelings of isolation and feeling misunderstood. You may have to stand-apart at some point from people you like, respect, or even love, but know that this is a part of your life-purpose.

Card 2

Heads: Your most-important destiny lies in your partnership with another, whether that partnership will be with a spouse, a business partner, a worthy cause, or some combination of these! The whole will turn out to be greater than the sum of its parts and you will be glad to be a part of it.

Tails: You are destined for a relationship of some kind which will teach you important lessons, and some of these lessons may seem harsh and hard-won. In the aftermath of this relationship, you will see more clearly what you value and what you do not.

Card 3

Heads: You are creative, either with the written or spoken word, with artistic skills, or in one of the performing arts. This may lead to you attaining a degree of notoriety. We hope you don't mind fame.

Tails: You will have an active social life, and possibly an active sex life too! You have a joie de vivre that draws people to you, and this may connect you with people who can benefit your life. There will likely be people who envy you your seemingly-charmed existence.

Card 4

Heads: You're destined to be the sort who establishes or helps establish institutions, rules, guidelines, or laws. Your life will be about work, order, & establishing boundaries. It's a brown-paper-wrapper of an existence, but somebody has to do it, and a lot of good things come in brown paper wrappers.

Tails: The life of a common laborer or in some run-of-the-mill job with low status and humble pay is destined to be yours. There will be times when you feel tired, overworked, hemmed-in, and kept down. Be kind to yourself at those times and press on; we see you and know your worth.

Card 5

Heads: An exciting life, with much travel, change, and variety is destined to be yours. You may end up in a career having to do with technology.

Tails: Your life's path will see you facing more change, variety and excitement than you might like. It will sometimes seem like just when you get comfortable in a job, relationship, or residence, it's time to dump that comfortable situation and move on. The lack of rootedness may bother you at times; learn how to establish a sense of inner stability.

Card 6

Heads: The pleasures of a happy home, family and married-life will play a big part in your destiny. You're a valued member of the family and will always remain so. You're the type who may end up on the school board or town council.

Tails: You're destined to shoulder many duties and responsibilities in life, and this will grate on your nerves at times. Learn ways of self-care and practice them often, as this will help you deal with it.

Card 7

Heads: You're likely a great student, 'geek', odd-ball, or some combination of all three. You enjoy academics, probably always enjoyed school and the life of the mind, and may well end up as a teacher or university professor.

Tails: You are destined for a life which is somehow related to religion, spirituality or possibly occult matters. You could be an ordained clergyperson, counselor, divinatory consultant, yoga instructor, or guru.

Card 8

Heads: You're destined to be a successful businessperson in whatever line of work you enter. You could go very far, and will likely make lots of money, with life becoming cushier and more well-heeled the farther along you go.

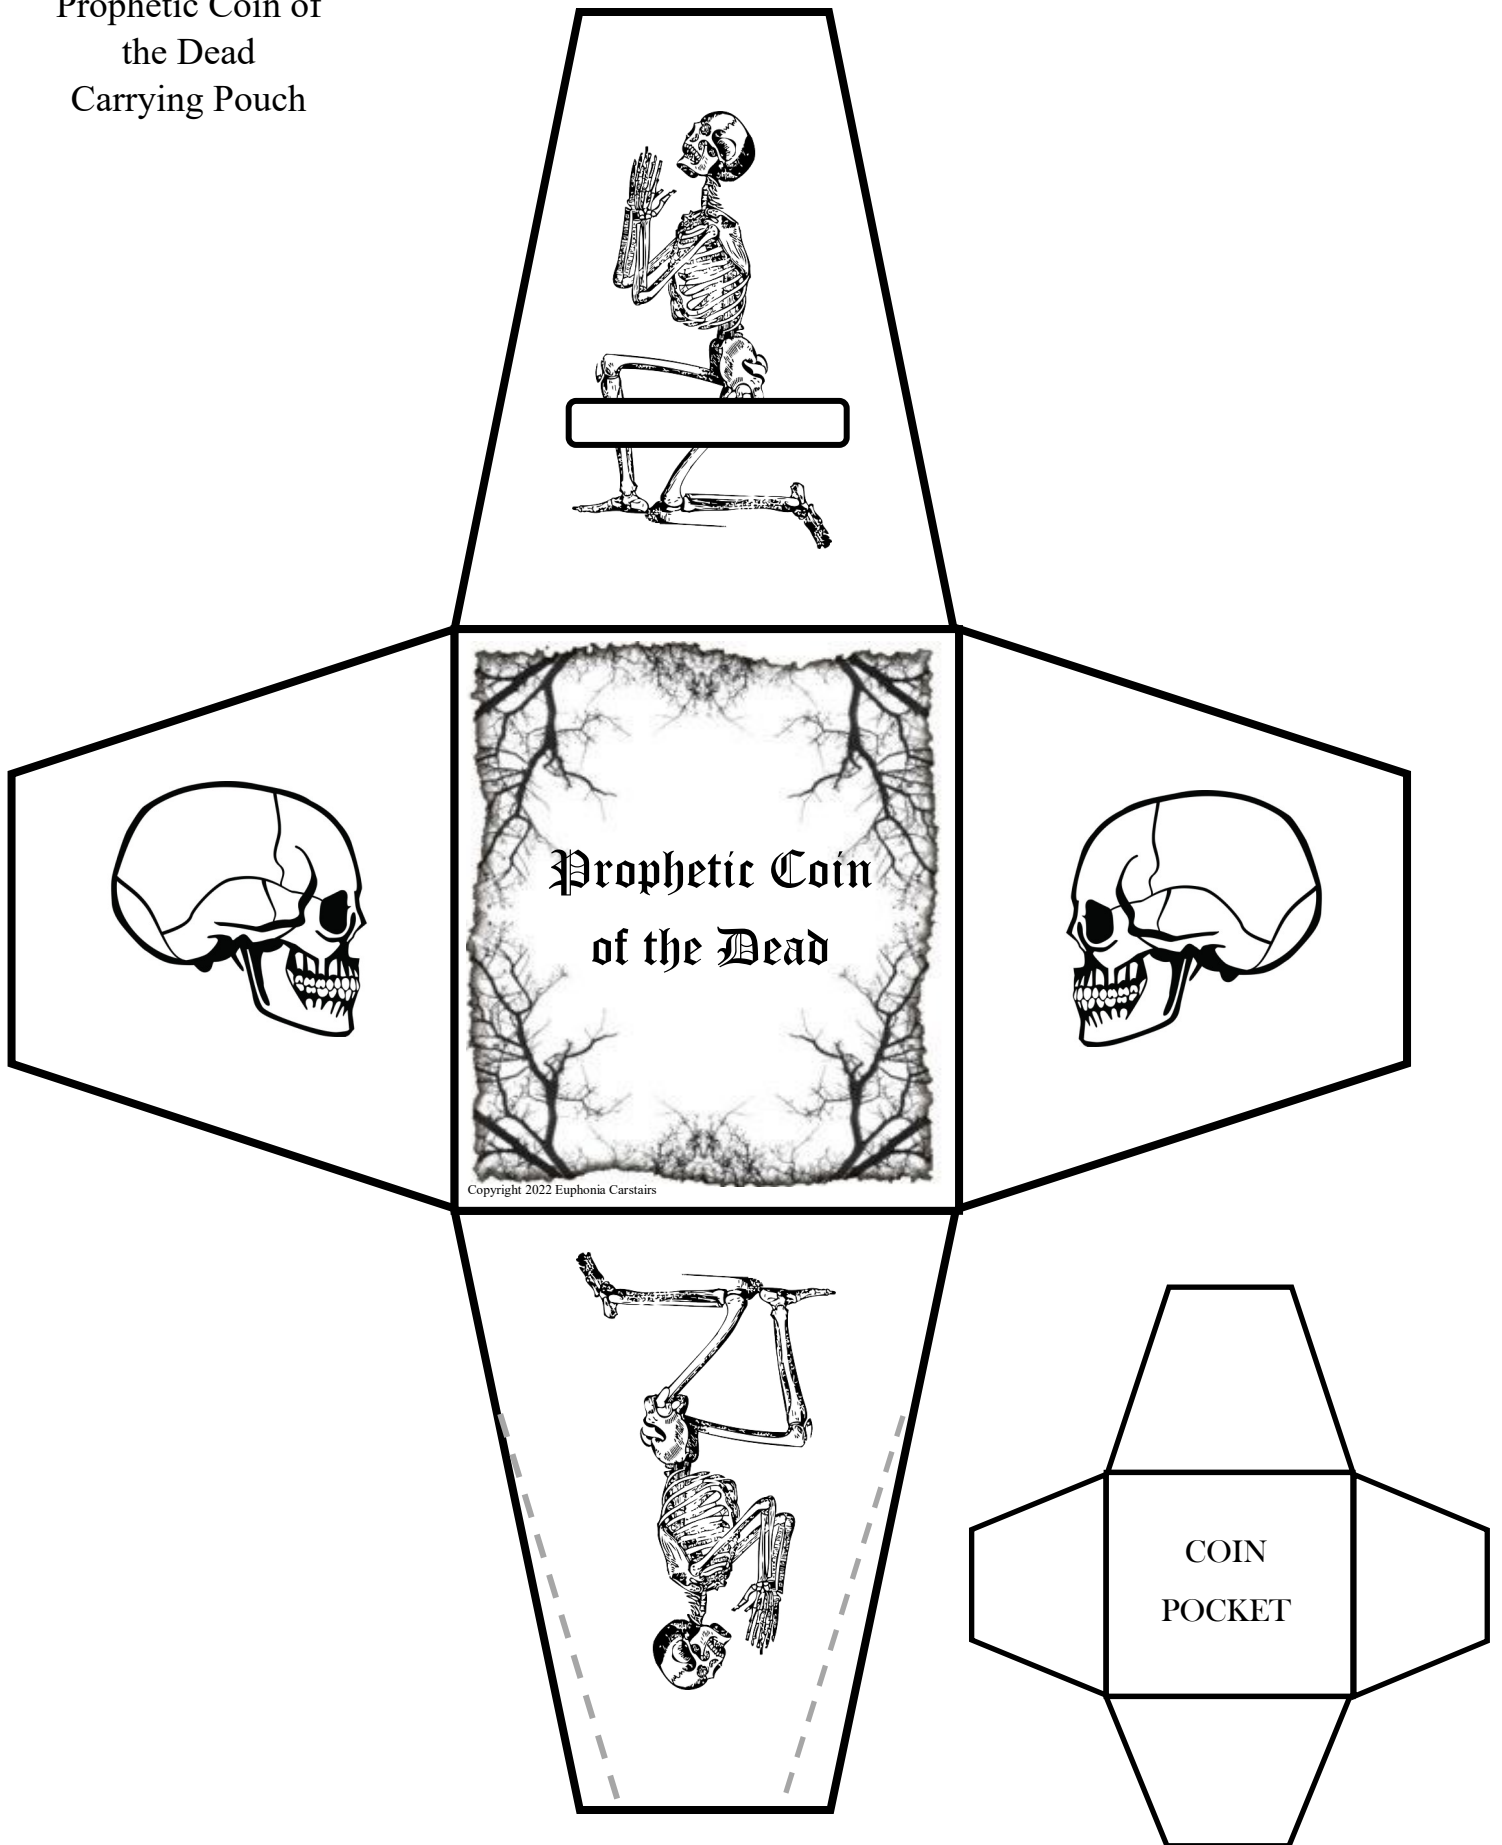

Tails: Likely the same fate as heads, but this comes with a warning: do not let material concerns, ruthless ethics, or a too-materialistic outlook take over your life. Ambition is good, but not everything important in life has tangible form, and you either are, or will be in danger of forgetting this.

Card 9

Heads: Your destiny lies in the direction of humanitarian work or organizations, social work, or artisanal pursuits. Or, one of your regular hobbies might well be volunteering somewhere for a worthy cause.

Tails: You may very-well be in a line of work or an avocation where you're frequently having to say goodbye to someone or something. You may feel a bit resentful at times, having to suffer goodbyes more than the average person, but it's a lesson you came into this life to learn—how to let go well.

Prophetic Coin of the Dead
Carrying Pouch

Coin of the Dead Answer Sheet

Date:

Table of Advice Response:

Table of Messages Response:

Table of What We Like About You Response:

Table of Destiny Response:

Identity/identities of Deceased, according to the
Dodecahedron of the Dead:

Overall impressions by these responses:

Coin of the Dead Answer Sheet

Date:

Table of Advice Response:

Table of Messages Response:

Table of What We Like About You Response:

Table of Destiny Response:

Identity/identities of Deceased, according to the
Dodecahedron of the Dead:

Overall impressions by these responses:
