Amusement

THE

YOUNG LADY'S ORACLE:

A Fireside Amusement.

NEW YORK:
PUBLISHED BY JAMES MILLER,
(SUCCESSOR TO C. S. FRANCIS & CO),
522 BROADWAY.

HOW TO CONSULT THE ORACLE.

THE mode of consulting the Oracle is extremely simple. The Card, which will be found at the end of the volume, having been cut into separate pieces, each containing a single number (Nos. 3 to 18), the pieces are to be deposited in a reticule or other convenient receptacle, so that the drawer may choose at random without being able to see the number chosen. The person who wishes to consult the Oracle having selected the question (pp. vii-xii) to which she wishes a reply, then withdraws one of the cards from the reticule, which gives the answer to her question.

Thus, for example, supposing the First question to be the one selected — "SHALL I BE

vi

HOW TO CONSULT THE ORACLE.

MARRIED SOON?" and that the card which she has withdrawn is No. 17, the answer will be readily found as follows: —

Turn to the Table of Answers (pp. xiii-xvi), and in the first column you will find the number of the Question to which a reply is required, (1), and in the top line the number of the Card selected (17): at the point of intersection of these two lines you will find 6, which indicates the page containing the answer. Thus turning to page 6, we find the reply of the Oracle No. 17 is — "YES, TO YOUR DARK ADMIRER."

7. What you feel when you see your fair ad-
[mirer.
8. The women think you giddy.
9. Yes, unless you alter your conduct.
10. On that question the oracle is mute.
11. You have ceased to be so.
12. Yes, more than you.
13. He says so: you must believe him.
14. Yes, if he solicits pardon.
15. A too great love of change.
16. Very rich.
17. Yes, with one of your rivals.
18. Yes, but it cannot last.

3. Those you have are not formidable.
4. The spirit is ever about you.
5. Yes, but conceal nothing from him.
6. You will be robbed of your most precious
[jewel.
7. Yes, from time to time.
8. No doubt.
9. Yes, to tell you what you know already.
10. Yes, all equally simple.
11. Your life will be long and happy.
12. How curious you are!
13. It will involve you in great danger.
14. Don't be uneasy.
15. Yes, give yourself that satisfaction.
16. Don't attempt it; you'd fail.
17. Quite enough, for its importance.
18. The rival of Madame Saqui.

3. Prefer fortune; it is more durable.
4. Every one has'nt got your capacity.
5. The most precious of the Creator's gifts.
6. Yes, 'tis quite time.
7. You'll be fascinated with a horse-guardsman.
8. No, not before twenty.
9. Interest will guide you.
10. Prudence forbids me to tell you.
11. Yes, from time to time.
12. The light one does not love you.
13. It's impossible.
14. Yes, if you are tricky.
15. Yes, for ugliness well dressed seems almost [beauty.
16. Prefer celibacy.
17. Yes, very shortly.
18. Perhaps at the scaffold!

3. That will depend on yourself.
4. You will shine everywhere.
5. Coquetry.
6. Not if you tell the truth.
7. Yes, act with more reflection.
8. To see your rival triumph.
9. Don't let that disturb you.
10. They will, by a female friend.
11. By promising everything.
12. Yes, in an instant.
13. He's at suicide!
14. Later than you imagine.
15. Very soon.
16. How simple you are!
17. Yes, but pardon him.
18. Yes, four girls.

3. No, you don't deserve it.
4. At the ball, for that's your passion.
5. With your enemy.
6. A very rare thing.
7. To some a burden.
8. They are so true, 'tis difficult.
9. It would be too much encouragement for him.
10. Your efforts are futile.
11. You are close upon your autumn.
12. It's very doubtful.
13. It will be terrible.
14. Imprudent! you would be undone.
15. He would show your letter to your enemies.
16. What does he say to you?
17. The most charitable.
18. Yes, far too much.

3. Yes, no doubt.
4. As your youth.
5. That depends on circumstances.
6. Not if you would remain virtuous.
7. Renounce your projects.
8. What you would inspire.
9. Your conduct is censured.
10. Your reputation requires it.
11. Very bad.
12. Yes, with a masque.
13. Like the Phrygian reeds.
14. I don't believe it.
15. It would save his life.
16. To tell him your secret.
17. Yes, rich and amiable.
18. You will be invited, but don't go.

3. What matters it to you? You need not fear.
4. They're about you on all sides.
5. If you were, you would not ask the question.
6. No, he would abandon you.
7. Yes, by your fair admirer.
8. What an absurd question!
9. Yes, out of courtesy.
10. Yes, to make fun of you.
11. There's little variety in species.
12. The hour of your death has not struck.
13. If you are married, don't wish it.
14. Yes, but don't remain there long.
15. Yes, despite envy.
16. No; give a civil refusal.
17. By using coquetry.
18. Yes, despite its weight.

3. To repentance.
4. Love, if sincere, is preferable.
5. What would become of the husbands?
6. What you'll never acquire.
7. Can you ask the question!
8. An artilleryman will take your heart by
9. Yes, but others will profit by it. [assault.
10. You've made a wretched choice.
11. You'll soon know.
12. By and by.
13. The dark one will be rich.
14. Yes, I assure you.
15. If you're wise, you'll not play.
16. It does not set you off.
17. No, not yet.
18. Yes, if you make the first advance.

3. Infinitely.
4. Before long, you'll be Mrs. — you know who.
5. In the country you'll be more of your own
6. Pride. [mistress.
7. Not, if you get a good lawyer.
8. Reassure yourself; they are not so.
9. Things the most frivolous.
10. They cannot fail to be so.
11. Yes, you'll have that vexation.
12. By conforming to his wishes.
13. Perhaps this evening.
14. His will.
15. Midsummer-day
16. When you're a little less perverse.
17. By your virtues.
18. Yes, and he is quite in the right.

3. Yes, if your conduct is irreproachable.
4. Yes, if you are discreet.
5. At Blind-man's Buff.
6. At a ball, with a black-eyed girl.
7. Marry, and you'll know.
8. A comedy in several acts.
9. Your marriage will silence them.
10. Yes, but be cautious.
11. Fortunately, no.
12. If I were to tell you, you'd hate me.
13. He'll be between 20 and 60.
14. It will be mixed flowers and thorns.
15. Your search would be fruitless.
16. Never write, or you are lost.
17. Yes, but not all.
18. You, my fair lady.

3. Prepare yourself.
4. Be assured to the contrary.
5. Yes, a month and more.
6. Yes, that of ambition.
7. No, it would undo you.
8. Be less jealous, and you will be happy.
9. A thing that has no actual existence.
10. You are criticized indulgently.
11. Yes, to silence chatter.
12. Very well.
13. Yes, to sketch.
14. Yes, very discreet.
15. He must have known you very little.
16. Forgiveness is a duty.
17. Ignorance on the point is bliss.
18. Yes, in hope.

3. 'Twas known long ago.
4. You know as well as I.
5. You've more of them than of friends.
6. Yes, but not very modest.
7. Do you think of it?
8. Yes, if you don't take care.
9. Yes, if you can.
10. Several reasons compel you to it.
11. What would he say to you?
12. No, far from it.
13. The day when you cease to live.
14. Alas! no.
15. Yes, in a few days.
16. No, my dear.
17. Yes, without hesitation.
18. 'Tis a trifle.

3. He loves you so dearly.
4. To your ruin.
5. That's as it may happen.
6. Yes, all equally artificial.
7. The greatest ornament of your sex.
8. Yes, but indifferently.
9. Yes, a lancer.
10. No, to your great regret.
11. Yes, if you manage it skilfully.
12. He can't have any of them.
13. You are too old.
14. Take both of them.
15. They will be, sooner or later.
16. At times you will be happy.
17. She's too old-fashioned.
18. Yes, to repair your fault.

3. Could he do otherwise?
4. More than you want.
5. Thirty years hence.
6. In town, if you like noisy pleasures.
7. Vanity.
8. No, and his loss will ruin you.
9. Yes, but no one observes it.
10. A desire you cannot satisfy.
11. Much better than the last.
12. Yes, by your husband.
13. By getting rid of your rivals.
14. Yes, to break with you.
15. He is fighting a duel for you.
16. To-morrow morning.
17. Soon, if you alter your conduct.
18. The sight of you alone will charm him.

3. An unknown masterpiece.
4. No, never!
5. Yes, but you won't be satisfied with it.
6. You could attain them.
7. I am too discreet to say.
8. The most docile to his dear rib.
9. An anecdote more or less long.
10. By correcting your bad habits.
11. I permit you.
12. Yes, if you wish it.
13. Sooner than you like.
14. He'll be much younger than you.
15. What shall I say to you?
16. Your honor forbids it.
17. Yes, but be brief.
18. It would occasion you much evil.

3. Is it necessary for your happiness?
4. Yes, to embroider there.
5. There might be a more fitting object.
6. Not very long.
7. Ask Elwes, the miser.
8. That would involve over obligation.
9. You must yield to his entreaties.
10. A thing that passes away with time.
11. They think you absurdly affected.
12. Pretend to break it off.
13. By a tiff.
14. Yes, when you're painted.
15. A secret is always a great burden to him.
16. Yes, with all his man's heart.
17. Don't be insensible to his tears.
18. To be over prudish with him.

3. Coquette! isn't one enough for you?
4. Everybody knows it.
5. If I were to tell you, you'd be furious.
6. Yes, and very inveterately.
7. Candidly, I think not.
8. Which?
9. Reassure yourself; you'll not be so.
10. Yes, but only in love.
11. It's time, my beauty.
12. Yes, to make you a thousand promises.
13. Yes, all the same.
14. Never; you are immortal
15. Yes, after being married 75 years.
16. Yes, in a large company.
17. Just at the apparent point of success you'll [fail.]
18. Yes, if you think him sincere.

3. Ask your heart.
4. Can he live without you?
5. To premature old age.
6. You'll be happy with neither of them.
7. All have not your excellencies.
8. A very rare virtue.
9. Do as you please.
10. Soldiers are always changing quarters.
11. Imprudent woman! What do you seek?
12. She could not but approve of him.
13. Marriage.
14. Why martyrize him?
15. Neither of them.
16. No, they are too ambitious.
17. You'll lose your patrimony by it.
18. She makes you look like a grisette.

3. By a better character.
4. Don't seek to know.
5. Yes, but very little.
6. I doubt it.
7. To the most retired rurality.
8. The love of pleasure.
9. Can you doubt it?
10. Go, and fear nothing.
11. Your lady friends will tell you.
12. They won't be so bad as all that.
13. Yes, if you slight my counsels.
14. Ask your mother.
15. He'll come to dine with you.
16. There's a plot hatching against you.
17. Don't hope to see him again.
18. When you have replaced him.

3. Not, if you would continue discreet.
4. The most discreet.
5. Yes, for you deserve it.
6. Perhaps.
7. This evening, you'll not repeat that question.
8. He is revelling.
9. There are none left in France.
10. A field that Death is always reaping.
11. Be resigned ; the thing is impossible.
12. Yes, but be on your guard.
13. Many obstacles will debar you.
14. She will begin very soon.
15. Young enough to think you old.
16. What inquisitiveness? I won't tell you.
17. Go there with a companion.
18. Yes, but don't sign anything.

3. That which you will commit this evening.
4. You occupy yourself with very futile things.
5. Yes, but be masqued.
6. Never mind ; go on with it.
7. It won't last at all long.
8. Folly says, yes ; wisdom, no.
9. The wine is drawn ; it must be drunk.
10. Nothing ; they are chimerical.
11. Sometimes a tragedy.
12. People laugh at your pride.
13. Where would you find another so good ?
14. It will end happily.
15. You would be so, were you not so plain.
16. No, and he's proud of it.
17. Yes, for he thinks you prudent.
18. No, his fault is unpardonable.

3. Why not ?
4. Impossible ; you're not clever enough.
5. It's too heavy to keep.
6. What a question ! You have none.
7. Only female enemies.
8. You might be a little more so.
9. Yes, if you are penitent.
10. It's very possible.
11. Constancy rather belongs to your time of life.
12. No, go on.
13. Yes, to reproach you.
14. Yes, all equally stupid.
15. At past eighty.
16. Yes, but at a very advanced age.
17. My child, I think not.
18. Yes, if you follow the right path.

3. Everything fits you admirably.
4. No, not if you would be happy.
5. You would do wrong.
6. It's of no use to tell you.
7. Prefer love, and fortune will follow.
8. Yes, most of them.
9. A very frail thing.
10. You ask too late ; 'tis past.
11. Yes, a colonel of infantry.
12. You'll soon know.
13. Could they hesitate ?
14. The state in which one lives free.
15. No, you are not enough of an actress.
16. Take the dark one.
17. No, to your great annoyance.
18. Luck will be various.

3. Never!
4. By greater modesty.
5. Coward! Can you suspect?
6. I'll tell you to-morrow, if you'll be discreet.
7. No, for you are too flighty.
8. In town, till you're thirty.
9. The being too flighty.
10. A false witness will lose it for you.
11. When they are, I'll tell you.
12. It would be too long a story.
13. You shall have excellent.
14. You must expect it.
15. By conforming to his humor.
16. Yes, since he has promised you.
17. He forgets you in the smoke of his cigar.
18. To-morrow, or never.

3. Avoid it most carefully.
4. No, he is deceiving you.
5. The husband's philosopher's stone.
6. Yes, a little.
7. Don't expect it any longer.
8. In the society you adorn.
9. He's running about the country.
10. The least wilful.
11. A journey full of accidents.
12. By steady coolness and perseverance.
13. 'Tis useless.
14. Impossible; he loves another.
15. Shortly.
16. Yes, rich, young, and amiable.
17. It will be unhappy.
18. Yes, if you can rely upon yourself.

3. Not yet; it's too soon.
4. That of slighting my counsel.
5. Yes, but you'll ruin him.
6. Yes, to meet your rival there.
7. No, for it's behind time.
8. No, by your own fault.
9. Yes, if you make good use of it.
10. No, my dear.
11. You must renounce the world.
12. A boy you must mistrust.
13. A very bad one.
14. Yes, break with him.
15. Very well, if you manage it skilfully.
16. An ill mind in a beautiful frame.
17. He is so, and always will be so.
18. Yes, but it will not be eternal.

3. You will encounter many obstacles.
4. Yes, but not for a month. [person!]
5. What a question from such a knowing
6. In future, bestow your confidence better.
7. A prettier woman than yourself.
8. Yes, more than you think.
9. You will never have that happiness.
10. It's needless; he knows it.
11. Not if you are prudent.
12. Very seldom.
13. Yes, if you are able.
14. Impossible; he can't write.
15. Yes; yours alone is an exception.
16. Before 1950.
17. Unluckily, no.
18. Yes, next spring.

3. Play, but in moderation.
4. That's as it may be thought.
5. Take good care of that; you're too flighty.
6. Get another; he'll not come back.
7. To a return to proper conduct.
8. Prefer fortune; so your ambition dictates.
9. That would be a calamity.
10. A path difficult to pursue.
11. Yes, for pleasure befits your age.
12. With a voltigeur, you'd have many campaigns to make.
13. A relation will leave you a legacy.
14. No, my love; he won't be sanctioned.
15. The state of innocence.
16. Yes, for a few days.
17. Take the fair one.
18. Yes, to stop your tears.

3. Too soon.
4. When you're more steady.
5. By somewhat less prudery.
6. Continue in your ignorance.
7. There's every probability.
8. Don't rely upon it.
9. I advise you to live in town.
10. I don't know one you have.
11. A mysterious personage will gain it for you.
12. No, not at all.
13. Can't you guess.
14. No, unluckily.
15. Not if you can be circumspect.
16. By making him no end of promises.
17. No, for he has ceased to love you.
18. Mischief.

3. Yes, if you like.
4. That would be improper.
5. Believe him, he is sincere.
6. A treasure not to be found.
7. Not much.
8. You are not likely to obtain it.
9. In your boudoir.
10. At the feet of his new love.
11. The greatest fool.
12. A mixture of honey and vinegar.
13. By avoiding that which causes it.
14. Yes, but don't be too yielding.
15. No, for I refuse my sanction.
16. Fear not: you are still young.
17. He will be old, poor, and cross.
18. Most happy.

3. Do not seek to know.
4. That will depend upon his conduct.
5. You are too prudent to commit any.
6. If he were rich, he would not marry you.
7. Yes, but don't give yourself up to it.
8. Yes, there is ample return.
9. You have many evils to undergo.
10. It were folly to believe it.
11. Take my advice; don't keep it.
12. You must quit town.
13. A skilful archer.
14. They think you rather silly.
15. With which?
16. In a duel, in which your lover will be killed.
17. Yes, but you think too much of it.
18. Discretion is his sole virtue.

3. Yes, next month.
4. Don't expect it.
5. That would be a folly.
6. By granting everything.
7. It could not be better placed.
8. A little simple thing of forty!
9. Be on your guard; they are numerous.
10. Your wit equals your beauty.
11. Yes, if you've courage enough.
12. No, but you will rob — hearts.
13. You may, till you're thirty.
14. Yes, if you want to get a husband.
15. Why should he write to you?
16. Women would be too much to be pitied.
17. Before a hundred years.
18. My dear friend, I quite despair of it.

3. Yes, all, except one.
4. It will be the making of your fortune.
5. No, you carry it so badly.
6. Marriage is worse than the plague.
7. Yes, if you can bring him back to you.
8. Alas! Don't you foresee?
9. Love.
10. Few are so inconstant.
11. A vessel that is often wrecked.
12. Yes, but dread the consequences.
13. Yes, a hussar.
14. Whence should it come to you?
15. Be happy; they approve it.
16. For you, a nunnery.
17. Yes, if you can.
18. The dark one will be more constant.

3. He forgets you.
4. He will be to-morrow at your feet.
5. When you are married.
6. By a few little attentions.
7. You must make up your mind to it.
8. Yes, but only two.
9. Don't be in such a hurry.
10. In the country you'll find happiness.
11. Backbiting.
12. Yes, but unjustly.
13. They can't be more so.
14. From absurd fears.
15. Yes, but they will be false.
16. Don't let that fear annoy you.
17. By pretending to love some one else. [time.
18. Don't wait for him; 'twould be losing your

3. It will be like the past.
4. What would you do there?
5. Why not?
6. You cannot too thoroughly mistrust him.
7. She who does not resemble you.
8. Assuredly.
9. Be sure of it.
10. What a curious question!
11. With his marchioness.
12. The most credulous.
13. A bitter narcotic plant.
14. By less equivocal conduct.
15. Yes, but very little.
16. Yes, despite the envious.
17. People at your age don't think of that.
18. Yes, but very ugly.

3. Indifferently.
4. In his heart he detests you.
5. He is too ungrateful.
6. The yielding too readily.
7. Yes, richer than you.
8. Could there be one without you?
9. It were impossible to be better.
10. Yes, if you can moderate your pleasures.
11. Gold is a chimera.
12. You cannot do otherwise.
13. Marry.
14. The most painful of maladies.
15. People laugh at your pretension.
16. Yes, if you have the courage.
17. By a marriage and a baptism.
18. Not so much so as you think.

3. Never.
4. Why wish it?
5. Yes, despite all obstacles.
6. He does not love you enough.
7. By an intrigue skilfully conducted.
8. Don't be alarmed.
9. A very prudent woman.
10. Their number is appalling.
11. You were, but are so no longer.
12. No, he'd tell everybody.
13. That would not be easy.
14. No, for that is the act of a madwoman.
15. Yes, for your youth is passing away.
16. Perhaps.
17. Yes, all bad fellows alike.
18. At your age, you need not think of that.

3. Take the most fashionable.
4. Their accomplishment will cost you dear.
5. That passion will be your destruction.
6. Charmingly.
7. Yes, but no sooner than you need.
8. He no longer thinks of you.
9. In a few years you will know.
10. I have said it: gold does not give happiness.
11. None are so prudish.
12. The enemy of folly.
13. Yes, for it won't last long.
14. Your husband will be a citizen-soldier.
15. You will have two.
16. Yes, I promise you.
17. If you were in love, you would know.
18. You would only lose by it.

3. Yes, to-morrow.
4. Laughing at your constancy.
5. Not for three years to come.
6. This evening.
7. That's a question not to be asked, Madame.
8. What makes you think so.
9. Yes, several.
10. Yes, if you alter your conduct.
11. In town, you would ruin yourself.
12. Hypocrisy.
13. I much fear so.
14. Yes, very imprudent.
15. From a malady you seek in vain to cure.
16. They'll be neither good nor bad.
17. No, but make haste and reform.
18. Ask your companion.

3. Yes, too young for you.
4. It will be very fortunate.
5. Your heart should tell you.
6. 'Tis useless.
7. I don't advise it.
8. An imaginary object.
9. Not at all.
10. Alas, no.
11. In the country.
12. With a milliner.
13. A simple man.
14. A history too brief.
15. By skillful tactics.
16. Yes, if you would give him happiness.
17. I give you my consent.
18. At sixty you will still look young.

3. Yes, when you pout.
4. At times.
5. He knows you too well.
6. 'Tis too late.
7. Inconstancy.
8. You will know in a year.
9. Yes, to your cost.
10. Yes, but it will cost you dear.
11. Your happiness draws near its close.
12. Yes, the happiness of a miscr.
13. A promise given, is due.
14. Despise them.
15. A story more or less long.
16. They think you somewhat backbiting.
17. Yes, for you begin to hate yourself.
18. In the loss of your reputation.
